Extra Legislative Session Is Threatened by Donahey

DEMANDS VOTERS' RIGHTS

Vetoes Measures Putting Curb on Independents

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press) — Coming to the support of independent candidates for political offices today by vetoing two legislative bills intended to curtail the privileges of such candidates, Governor Donahey in addition declared that he "may feel compelled to call the general assembly back in extraordinary session" to restore to municipalities of 2,000 or more population the right to vote for independent candidates. This right was taken from the municipalities by a supreme court decision a year ago.

The two measures were among five disapproved by the governor today.

The governor said he desired to "give this class of municipalities the same right to vote for independent candidates that the other subdivisions, as well as the state at large now have."

"If we do less," Donahey continued, "both the lawmaking and executive branches of the state government will deserve the indignation and rebuke of the citizens of such municipalities."

PROVISION OF BILLS

The two election bills vetoed by the governor today were that of Representative Sullivan of Unionco, providing that a candidate defeated in a primary election might not subsequently become an independent candidate for office by petition, and that of Senator Light of Logan-co., requiring independent candidates to file their petitions not less than five days before a primary election. Opponents of the bills when they passed the legislature, declared that they practically eliminated the independent candidate and the governor declared that they were passed "in the interest of political machines and against the interests of the people."

In disapproving the Sullivan bill the governor said:

"It is entirely conceivable that thru devious political chicanery primary elections may result in nominations not for the public good. Why should we deny a candidate the right to run independently after the primary election if a sufficient number of voters sign petitions in behalf of such candidate?"

Expressing his objection to the Light measure, the governor declared that "under this bill which denies new candidates after primary elections, the political machines of the major parties may by shrewd manipulation nominate boss-controlled candidates without facing the possibility of having to contend with new independent candidates at the election."

64 BILLS VETOED

Because of provisions lowering the compulsory school attendance age from 18 to 16 years, Governor Donahey today vetoed the Bloom bill, designed to modify present laws dealing with child labor in agricultural pursuits.

The governor declared he was in agreement with provisions of the bill which would permit school children to work in agriculture during the summer months and urged the legislature to give necessary consideration to necessary modifications of present law in this respect. He could not approve modification of attendance laws, however, he said.

Under the present law, the chief executive declared, idleness is layed off and eliminated by requiring children between 16 and 18 either to attend school or work, while under the Bloom bill they would be required to do neither.

The governor's veto count reached 64 with the vetoing of a total of five measures.

Besides the Bloom bill and two measures abridging the rights of independent political candidates, the chief executive exerted his veto power on a bill of Representative Rohe, proposing that township trustees be given authority to purchase of park sites, and on another by Mrs. Ott of Youngstown giving township park trustees jurisdiction over park matters where city and township boundaries coincide. The first measure, the governor declared, would permit expenditure of money without the consent of the voters, and the second would grant to township authorities powers which rightly belong to those of the city.

MEASURES SIGNED

The governor also affixed his signature to seven measures including the "blue sky" bill of Representative Brown of Ross and Fouts, of Morgan. The measure is intended to strengthen the department of securities and make more difficult the sale of worthless stocks.

Other measures signed by the governor were:

- Setting the duties of park commissioners.
- Making the penalty of delinquent taxes 8 per cent.
- Providing for the organization of a state board of pharmacy.
- Permitting the purchase by the board of control of land for state parks.

PRESIDENT MAY DROP COURT IDEA

Awaits Verdict of People to Decide His Course

FOES IN PARTY STAND PAT

New York Speech Declared Failure by Watson

WASHINGTON — (United Press) — Political Washington was at fever heat of excitement today over President Harding's New York speech tying to his 1924 candidacy and to his party's fortunes the world court issue.

Mr. Harding returned from New York early this morning. Senator Watson, of Indiana, also came back from New York and hunted up Senator Lodge to talk with him about the president's speech. Lodge was expected to call at the White House. Republican politicians were waiting almost breathlessly to hear what he would say after meeting Mr. Harding. For Lodge's statement of his position on the court issue which he has promised to give out after he has discussed the matter with the president, will give lesser Republicans their cue and notify them whether there is a split in the party.

SEEN'S PUBLIC OPINION

Mr. Harding returned calmly to face the opposition here, he knew would come and was prepared for it. What he was more interested in he told members of his party on the return journey, was the reaction of the country at large. It is too soon to appraise that reaction. But Mr. Harding indicated he would not be much disturbed by what Lodge, Watson, Brandegee or McCormick said, until he had learned whether the people at large sided with him or with his critics.

If the president feels that his ease and that of the Watson group is now before the people, the verdict probably will determine the president's course. If the country shows that it agrees with him he will vigorously continue to urge that the United States come a party to the court.

If the president prevails with the public, he probably will yield gracefully by letting the court issue slip quietly into the background.

HARDING FOLLOWED

Watson, who went everywhere yesterday that Harding went, but did not confer with the president, even walked past him at the ball game without speaking, said the whole discussion in Republican ranks is good humored and will remain so.

"We aren't going to get mad about it," said Watson. "But the president's speech did not convince me on the point which I was practically concerned about—the six British votes. I do not think it will convince the American people either."

Watson regarded Mr. Harding's speech as a fine broad gesture which permitted him to tell his side of the story, and predicted that from now much less will be heard about world court issue from the president.

COMPANY'S SURPLUS FOR 3 MONTHS IS $2,048,566

YOUNGSTOWN — The Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company, one of the largest independent steel companies in the country, earned a surplus of $2,048,566 in the first quarter of 1923, it was announced today. Gross earnings were $4,714,259 deducting interest on bonds and depreciation left $3,210,724. Dividends paid amounted to $1,162,158. The surplus is larger than the entire surplus for 1922.

BOY LEAVES CITY WITH CIRCUS, MOTHER REPORTS

Oliver Mull, 17, of 702 S. McCall-st., ran away with the John Robinson circus, his mother, Mrs. Kate Mull, told police Wednesday. She asked that he be intercepted and returned home, as he is her only support.

She described him as five feet, eight inches tall, weight 138 pounds, black hair and blue eyes with a fair complexion. He wore a brown suit, brown shoes and a light tweed cap.

LOUVAIN WEEK IS SET APART BY DONAHEY

COLUMBUS — The week of May 7-14 has been set apart as Louvain week in the public schools of Ohio, under an announcement from Governor Donahey and V. M. Reigel, state director of education.

This time is to be given to creating interest in a movement to restore the famous library of the University of Louvain which was destroyed by German artillery during the war.

BANKER ADMITS FORGING NOTES

One of Pair Jailed at York, Pa., Makes Confession

YORK, PA. (Associated Press)

—Forged notes, ranging in denomination from $100 up into the thousands, constitute the evidence of defalcation against Thomas B. Baird, cashier, and William H. Boll, assistant cashier of the City Bank of York, according to state banking officials, who yesterday closed the doors of the institution after they had discovered a shortage estimated at nearly $1,000,000. Both Baird and Boll, who are charged with embezzling funds of the bank, are in jail in default of $100,000 bail each.

CONFESION MADE

Charles H. Graf, second deputy state banking commissioner, said today that Boll had admitted forging notes aggregating $122,000.

Graf said the operations of the two apparently had extended over many years and that they had been able to conceal them by hiding papers from loose leaf ledgers when the state authorities made an examination.

Baird's salary was $5,000 a year and Boll's $3,500.

UNIFORM DIVORCE LAWS ASKED IN RESOLUTIONS

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Resolutions urging uniform divorce laws throughout the United States, to be obtained by constitutional amendment, and enforcement of the existing prohibition laws, "if it takes the entire United States navy to patrol American waters and the United States army to patrol the borders of our country," were submitted to the 600 delegates attending the general sessions of the National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers' Associations here today for discussion and action. Another resolution submitted asks that immigration bars be lowered to "open the gates to the families of immigrants whose fathers or providers now are in this country."

The annual election was scheduled for today.

GIRL CALMLY SENDS MANY PERSONS TO DEATH

MOSCOW — (Associated Press) —Citizeness Anna Gluzmann, the 25-year-old presiding judge of the Moscow district court who a few days ago sent seven men to their death for robbery, informed The Associated Press correspondent today that she had imposed the death penalty on about twenty-five persons since February, and not lost a moment's sleep or been troubled by her conscience because of them.

Asked how as a woman she felt when doomed men were shot, she replied that the question of individual lives could have no consideration when crimes against the safety of the state and the public were involved.

She had to administer justice according to the law of evidence, she tried to temper her decisions with mercy when possible.

With a cigarette held firmly between tight lips and the fire of an enthusiast in her brown eyes, the girl judge spoke of her court experiences. She is slim and short, not at all pretty; her brown wavy hair is bobbed and parted on the side like a man's; her jaw is strong. Dressed as she was today, Citizeness Gluzmann might have posed for the representation of what some times is imagined as a typical woman Communist.

A pleasant smile saved her from positive ugliness, but there was no hint of feminine femininity in her rough high boots, black skirt, blue denim workman's blouse buttoned high at

WARNING SENT TO CENTRAL HIGH

Will Lose Standing if Requirements Are Not Met

CLAIM ERRORS IN REPORT

Does Not Affect Pupils Entering Ohio Colleges

Warning that Central High school will lose its place on the accredited list of high schools of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools if certain requirements are not met, has been received by high school authorities, it was learned Wednesday.

Errors in reports from the high schools are the basis of the objections, it is asserted.

The high school's report to the association did not show that one of the instructors had received the required 11 hours of college credit in educational work. On examination it was found that this was due solely to omission from the report, as the instructor was a graduate of one of the leading colleges and has even more than the necessary credits.

The state high school inspector has already approved the credits, it was said.

Other objection was based on the high ratio between the number of teachers and the number of students. Errors have been found, it was said, which warrant the belief that when the report is checked up, the grounds for objection will be removed.

RATIO CHANGED

The former teacher-student ratio was 1 to 30, but last year was changed for a period of three years to one teacher to every 25 students. This rule, it was said, is to be removed after next year, as it increases the cost of operating the high school to a point where their cost is three times that of the grade schools.

The disqualification carried in the association's warning is merely a technical one, it was said, and does not affect in any way the admission of graduates of Central High into any college in Ohio, according to State Examiner Verry. Even if the teacher-student ratio objection could not be removed, it was said, it would merely affect those students who were going to colleges outside of Ohio among the north central states, school heads say.

Central high stands on the accredited list of the state association of colleges in the highest rank, he said. This body being 1 to 30.

South high school is also on the accredited list, superintendent J. E. Collins added.

ALGER MAN KILLED UNDER AUTO

Clem Newland Has Neck Broken as Car Turtles

Clem Newland, 31, farmer, residing two miles east of Alger, was instantly killed at 5 p. m. Tuesday when the car which he was driving into Alger from his home turned over on him, breaking his neck.

Coroner Glenn Hanson, after investigation, said death was accidental.

None saw the accident which occurred a mile from Alger, but it is believed Newland was driving at a high rate of speed and while trying to get out of a rut in the road, he lost control of the car.

The automobile turned over in the center of the road, pinning him underneath.

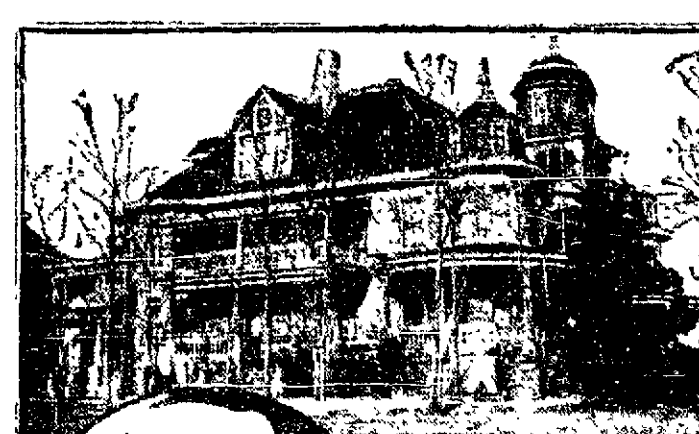

A passing motorist saw the car and called persons nearby who removed the body and notified the coroner.

Newland is survived by his widow and two children.

KILLED IN FALL

Ohio Mother Deserts Offspring When Plea Is Denied

CHILLICOTHE — (United Press) —Refusing to grant Mrs. Andrew Herbst's tearful plea to release her husband from a liquor making charge, Mayor Addison O. Minshall found himself left with the six crying Herbst children on his hands.

Herbst is confined in county jail in default of $500 fine for a second offense of liquor making violation.

Mrs. Herbst, exhibiting her children, pleaded for the release of her husband.

Mayor Minshall told her she and her husband must sell their farm and leave the county. Mrs. Herbst said it could not be done.

"Then you take the children," said Mrs. Herbst, leaving the six small children in the office and departed.

Cries of the deserted children brought occupants of the building to the mayor's office. Calling police headquarters, Mayor Minshall ordered a search for Mrs. Herbst. Found late last night she was made to take back her children.

OHIO ROAD BUILDING PROGRAM RESUMED

COLUMBUS — The Ohio road building program which has been held up temporarily during a row between the governor and highway director Herrick, is under way today.

Director of Finance Baker announced the approval of contracts for the improvement of about 47 miles of roads thruout the state. These jobs were let during January, February and March.

In some cases, the cost of brick is under the figure of a year ago, according to Baker. The brick is being laid on macadam base instead of concrete.

Altho the governor has "outlawed" reinforced concrete and "patented" types of construction four such specifications are on the newly approved list.

Projects still held up include small jobs in Athens and Fairfield.

TWO MEN EXECUTED BY IRISH FREE STATE

TRALEE, Ireland — Richard Hathaway, James McEnery and John Greaney were executed here today by the free state authorities. Hathaway, who was a deserter from a British regiment, was captured in the recent stages of a civil war which a band of irregulars was holding out on the Kerry Cliffs.

GET $500 FROM DEPOSIT BOXES

Acetylene Torch Used to Burn Hole in Vault Door

ROBBERS ABANDON TOOLS

Fail to Open Strong Box—Escape in Automobile

Fifty-four safety deposit boxes were removed from the St. Henry Mercantile bank early Wednesday when robbers burned a hole in the door of the vault and escaped in an automobile.

Clarence Romer, insurance agent and assistant in the bank, stated Wednesday he does not believe the loss will amount to more than $500, because many persons who had negotiable securities deposited them with the bank directly and these were placed in the main vault, which the yeggs did not get into.

In their haste to escape, the robbers left a number of tools, an acetylene tank and a blanket. The door of the vault was still warm when officials discovered the robbery about 7 o'clock.

No one in St. Henry heard the robbers at work.

ROBE BURIED IN DOOR

A large hole was burned in the door of the vault, but the burglars could not get into the strong box where money and securities are kept, because of a re-lapping door process.

The outside door of the bank was opened by chiseling the lock.

Romer said he passed the bank about 12:30 o'clock returning from a dance, and at that time there was no sign of a robbery.

William H. Rumer is president of the bank and E. Z. Rumer, cashier.

When police were notified and police officers in Allen and other surrounding counties are on the watch for clues to the identity of the men who it is believed escaped in an automobile.

36 WIN DRUGGIST CERTIFICATES

Result of Ohio Examinations Announced at Cleveland

CLEVELAND — (Associated Press) — The Ohio board of pharmacy in session here, passed upon grades made by applicants at the examination held in Columbus three weeks ago. Of the 48 who applied for the pharmacist examination, 36 were granted pharmacist certificates, including the following:

Maxwell M. Carmel, Cincinnati; Joseph Stolz, Cincinnati; Robert T. Heyker, Cincinnati; George W. Boser, Cincinnati; Carroll A. Mayo, Cincinnati; George W. Boser, Cincinnati; Jacob A. Behor, Canton; Samuel Cohen, Lorain; Abraham L. Berger, Steubenville.

Thirty following three obtained grades high enough on the pharmacist examination to entitle them to an assistant certificate:

Harry D. Walker, Columbus; Ralph C. Ray, Warren; Edgar William Allen, Akron.

They were all applied for assistant examination. Thirty-six granted assistant pharmacist certificates, including the following:

Leo Feinstein, Cincinnati; Harry D. Poulton, Akron; Donald M. Wagner, Akron; G. Cleon Darlick, Canton; Elliott G. Friedman, Lorain; Albert George Kitter, Youngstown.

The highest grade obtained in the pharmacist examination was 86 2/3 per cent by George W. Boser of Cincinnati.

The next examination will be held in Columbus the third week in June.

MURDER OF WIFE DENIED BY CINCINNATI PRISONER

CINCINNATI — William Webb, 57, contracting teamster, held in a cell at central police station, denied today he murdered his wife, Mrs. Mamie Moore Webb, as charged in a warrant obtained by her mother.

Webb said his wife, to whom he was married while she lay dying in a hospital, had become ill recently and that he had not struck her, as charged by her mother. Coroner D. W. Stephens of Kenton-co., Ky., where Mrs. Webb died, said he believed the case was not one of murder.

CAMPAIGN ON RAIL CROSSINGS OPENS

County Surveyor Will Urge Protection at Death Traps

COURT ACTION PROBABLE

Fatal Accident Stirs Officials to New Action

Railroads in Allen-co will be forced to eliminate death crossings or protect them in an adequate manner, if recommendations which Walter R. Toy, county surveyor, intends to make to the county commissioners, are carried out.

Toy believes the time has come to end accidents similar to that which occurred at Scott's Crossing early Monday morning. One man was killed, and several others hurt, when a fast train hit an automobile.

If the railroad lines will not act, then the county should do so, the surveyor says. Toy proposes to make a survey of dangerous crossings in the county and recommend that a warning target and bell be placed at every bad crossing that is not otherwise protected.

If possible, he believes that steam and traction lines should be compelled to maintain crossing gates and watchmen at danger points.

EFFORTS FAIL

Efforts were made by the county this spring to induce the railroad to build an underpass at Scott's Crossing. Officials of the Pennsylvania, however, announced nothing would be done this year.

Another bad crossing which the county has been unable to remedy is Dead Man's crossing on the L. E. & W. and Western Ohio, between Bluffton and Beavertown.

Railroad men admit the crossings are dangerous, but say that finances will not permit the construction of tunnels or overhead structures.

Court action is being considered by the county commissioners as a means of stirring the railroads to more in the matter.

Toy says he will prepare a list of death-trap crossings within the next week.

FUNK FUNERAL THURSDAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Nancy Funk, 74, of Bath-p, who died Tuesday from complications, will be held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. S. B. Fletcher, of Bath-p, Thursday afternoon at 2 p. m. Rev. S. I. Driver will officiate. Burial in Shawnee cemetery.

SURGERY PATIENT

Dale R. Marshall, of 307 Harrison-av., is improving after an operation to his throat which he underwent Thursday.

TED DECLINES TO JOIN SHOW

Ted was tempted to accompany the circus away from this city during the night to its next stand, after his experience at the Murphy-st grounds Tuesday, as a wild riding cow puncher from the western plains.

However, he changed his mind when Jack Frost threatened to visit this section. He decided that hitting the hay was the better thing and will wait for the next "biggest show on earth."

Fair tonight and Thursday, no change in temperature quotes the weatherman this day. Which is taken to mean that Old Sol and the chill king are to continue their battle.

Sol is slowly worsening his enemy, it is pleasing to note—but very slowly, as tardy gardens and hesitating tree buds will testify amply.

The wether mascot is looking for something. It may be a desire to join the circus organization—and maybe not.

Garden making is proceeding, in spite of the fact that weather conditions are anything but inviting—or promising. Farmers are as busy as bees on their acres, preparing for the expected harvest later in the season.

Many of them came to this city Wednesday, however, to visit the poultry and dairy demonstration train.

LIONS CHOOSE DELEGATES TO TWO CLUB CONVENTIONS

Delegates to represent the Lima Lions club at the state convention at Akron May 24 and at the international convention at Atlantic City in June were elected at the weekly luncheon Wednesday at the Elks' club.

President H. H. Miller will be international delegate. State delegates follow:

H. H. Miller, R. D. Ashley, H. J. Fuld, E. O. Sellers, P. Reid Marshall, Rev. G. M. Baumgardner and A. S. Chenoweth.

Alternates to the state meeting will be Joel Spyrker, Dr. F. H. Hutchinson, D. M. Cleveland, Cliff Smith, John Alligier, Adam Periot and Dr. Henry Brink.

The club instructed the delegates to work for the election of R. D. Ashley as state director from this district and for the re-establishment of a state treasury.

Rev. G. M. Baumgardner made a short address at the luncheon on "The Things That Count."

BURIAL PLACE IS KEPT SECRET

Indians' Wishes as to Slain Chief Officially Observed

SALT LAKE CITY — (Associated Press) — The body of Old Posey, leader of the vanquished renegade tribe of Piute Indians which went on the warpath in southeastern Utah, rests today in a rude rock covered grave somewhere in the mountains near Blanding, Utah, where he was slain last month in a skirmish with white settlers.

The aged chieftain—he was reputed to be 100 years old—made his last stand with a handful of braves near Comb Wash., March 28, last, and he died alone while white possemen routed his small band.

United States Marshal J. Ray Ward late yesterday brought the news of Old Posey's death to Blanding. Altho earlier advices said Marshal Ward was accompanied by several officers who were led by captive Piutes to the spot where Posey was slain, the marshal stated he was the only white man in the party which recovered the body.

At the request of the tribesmen, it was reported, the body was buried without ceremony yesterday at a secret spot on a mountainside. The Indians asked that the burial place not be revealed.

Marshal Ward went to Blanding several days ago to investigate reports that the Indians had information on the whereabouts of Old Posey who faced arrest under a federal warrant charging insurrection.

After a ceremonial Indian Welcome Macon Jim, 103 year old chieftain told the marshal that Old Posey had died in battle and that the captured Piutes knew where the body lay.

The marshal got out on horseback with the Indians and they found the body in a small cave where Indians said Old Posey had crawled before he died.

In late years Old Posey had figured as a leader in many Indian disturbances in southeastern Utah.

COUNTY SCHOOL HEALTH INSPECTIONS NEAR END

County Health Commissioner Dr. J. J. Sutter, assisted by Mrs. Anna May Fetter, county nurse and Miss C. Bassett, of the Child Welfare department, conducted annual examination of high school students of Harrod, Wednesday.

Examination of Beavertown high school students Thursday will complete health inspections of county schools for the year.

TEN BUSINESS MEN WILL ADDRESS LIMA REALTORS

Topic of interest to property owners and business men of the city will be discussed at the regular monthly banquet of the Lima Realtors association at the Hotel Argonne Thursday night.

Ten Lima business men have been asked to address the realtors and associate members on subjects of general interest. They will choose such subjects as city planning, taxation, zoning, building code and housing of workers.

Methods whereby the present shortage of rental properties in the city can be relieved will probably receive considerable attention by the speakers. W. R. Muntaugh, president of the association, said Wednesday.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m. and the series of addresses will follow.

TYPING EXHIBITION

George L. Hossfeld, world champion typist, was scheduled to give a demonstration of his speed at the Delphos high school Wednesday afternoon.

CHAMP TELLS HOW BEST TO FLY A KITE

(BY STEPHEN BALLIET) Lima Kite Champion

Here's the best way to fly a kite. Let out 25 to 50 feet of string from the reel and have someone hold the kite. There is one way of holding a kite which I've found best.

That is to grasp it by the joints and the tail stretching out in front of the person holding the kite, and toward the one sailing it.

The one person should hold it until there is a steady wind and then the other boy run with the kite for a short distance, until the wind catches the kite and forces it into the air.

After the kite is in the air, of course the thing is all over to do is to make it as high and as far as possible.

If the kite starts to go down toward the ground, it means there is too much string on it and it should be reeled in a bit. If it pulls pretty hard let more string out. Then, if it whirls around and darts from one place to another, either let out on the string or run with it to steady it. If it still continues to dart about the best thing to do is to bring it down and put on more tail.

Anything else there is to flying a kite must be learned from actual experience, because it is pretty hard to mention every little detail which goes to make up the great game of kite flying.

Each kite seems to have funny ways of its own and all of us must get used to our own kites as we build them.

Tomorrow he will tell about his battle kite and give other interesting bits of information about kite flying.

WOMAN WINS HONORS IN SCHOOL AFTER WEDDED LIFE OF EIGHTEEN YEARS

COLUMBUS — Married eighteen years, arising each morning at 4:45 in order to come 15 miles to the university, yet leading the 8,000 students at Ohio State University in scholarship, is the record of Mrs. Mamie S. Taylor of West Jefferson, Ohio.

Mrs. Taylor was recently elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary fraternity, with a perfect scholarship record. Domestic affairs are no hindrance to study, she declares.

Much of Mrs. Taylor's study is done on street cars while traveling between West Jefferson and the university.

Interest in outdoor life impelled Mrs. Taylor to enroll at the university as a special student. She has specialized in science, chiefly botany, and expects to return next year as a graduate student.

By enrolling as a special student, Mrs. Taylor was enabled to take advanced courses and by getting the highest possible grades in these courses she was able to omit preparatory work.

Mrs. Taylor ascribes her success to the fact that she has always taken work in which she was interested.

HARROD COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES ARE PLANNED

Commencement activity of the Harrod High school will begin the evening of May 4 with the Junior-senior banquet and culminates in the annual alumni banquet to be held May 15.

Activity extending over the two weeks includes a county fair, meet May 11 in conjunction with which a high school picnic will be given. The senior class play will be given on the following night and baccalaureate services will be conducted by Rev. G. W. Foltz, pastor of the Christian church.

Rev. Jesse Swank, of Marion, will deliver the class address at the commencement day exercises, May 18.

Officers of the graduating class are: Russell Lowman, president; Mildred Crumrine, vice-president; Martha Hay, secretary and Opal Parlette, treasurer.

Members of the graduating class are: Lloyd Young, Ruth Swanson, Thelma Vorhees, Russell Lowman, Ruth Leatherman, Martha Hay, Diamond Miller, Ruth March, Opal Parlette, Gretchen Gny, Charlotte Coon, Mildred Crumrine and Marie Rockhold.

D. R. Rice is superintendent of the city schools.

G. O. P. PLANS

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press) — Republican legislative leaders, faced with an unprecedented number of vetoed bills, were gathering here today to decide what disposition should be made of the measures.

The two houses reconvened Friday after their three weeks' recess. A conference scheduled for tonight was expected to develop the attitude at least of the leadership of the assembly, as to what measures should be brought up in an attempt to obtain the three-fifths vote necessary to pass them over the veto.

The meeting also was expected to bring forth some indication as to whether the assembly would remain in session several days or possibly two weeks to round out its program.

Those who were forecasting a lengthy session today pointed out that in vetoing the Republican taxation program, of which at least four bills were expected to be taken up for repassage, the governor had pointed out certain conflicts with sections of law still in force. Since amendments may not be made in passage over the veto, at least one of these bills, it was said, would have to be reintroduced with the imperfections removed, and this would require some time—at least the better part of a week.

MEASURES VETOED

Governor Donahay today had run his veto count up to 59—a number far in excess of the total of any previous chief executive—and still was going strong with indications that a goodly number of the almost sixty measures yet before him would receive his disapproval.

Yesterday's grist from the veto mill included a proposal by Representative Theodore C. Neal, that motorists fined by village mayors or police justices be given the right to appeal to the common pleas court. Numerous objections were raised by the governor in his veto message including statements that the measure was imperfectly drawn, left the power of fixing bond with the clerk of courts instead of the judge and required the "village solicitor" and officers whom he said did not exist, to act as counsel for the village.

Other bills which fell before the veto would have permitted county commissioners to have jurisdiction over sewer districts outside of cities for which they would receive extra compensation, based on the value of sewer projects undertaken; allowed milk dealers to sell unstandardized milk without its being so labeled; and granted to the probate court of Marion-co concurrent jurisdiction with the common pleas court in proceedings in divorce, alimony, partition and foreclosure of mortgages.

The common pleas court of the county was able to handle all such cases, the governor declared, and the bill would only increase the lack of uniformity in the state's court system.

LIMA FRIENDS HEAR FROM HOOVERS IN THE ORIENT

Communication received Wednesday by S. G. Parks, 507 E. Market-st., from W. F. Hoover of the Hoover-Hond company, who with Mrs. Hoover is touring the Orient, reports that on March 10 the tourists were on their way to China.

The communication received by Parks was mailed from Tokio, Japan and reported a successful trip. Mr. Hoover sailed from New York several months ago. D. H. Kirwan is also a member of the party.

COMMERCE BOARD PLANS FOR MEMBER DRIVE GROW

Members of the executive committee of the Board of Commerce will meet Thursday at luncheon at the Lima club.

Membership chairmen of the various groups of activities included will discuss plans for the coming membership campaign.

BUSINESS WOMEN PLAN ADOPTION OF BY-LAWS

Members of the constitution and by-laws committee of the proposed business and professional women's club will meet Wednesday evening at the Board of Commerce rooms and draft constitution to be submitted at a later meeting.

The drafting committee is composed of the following business women of the city: Mrs. W. F. Wells, Dr. Josephine Peirce, Mrs. Grace B. Hollister, Miss Ruth Keating and Miss Marietta Day.

Good Health Secret of Beauty

Beauty lies in the care a woman bestows upon herself and in keeping at bay those dread ailments peculiar to her sex, which drag her down and leave telltale traces upon her countenance. Sparkling eyes, the elastic face and a clear complexion never accompany organic troubles. Distressed expressions, a sallow complexion, dark circles under the eyes, lassitude, headaches, and mental depression are the telltale symptoms of women's ailments. Women so troubled should not lose a day in taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, the most successful remedy known to overcome woman's ills and restore health and beauty.

OFFICIAL DOG CATCHER FOR COUNTY WILL TAKE FIELD TO KILL ANIMALS

Unlicensed dogs in Allen-co are again in jeopardy.

A regular dog catcher is to fare forth to end their days, unless kind-hearted owners come forward and buy the necessary tags.

Fred Moran, colored, 214 Miller-av., is to be the official canine catcher, working under the direction of Frank Killian, county humane officer. He claims to have been employed in a similar capacity in Chicago and Jackson, Mich.

He will be armed with nets, lariats and other implements of the trade.

Killian is of the opinion that with Moran devoting his entire attention to capturing unlicensed dogs, the harvest will be large. Killian has destroyed 14 animals in the past month.

A total of 3009 dogs are now wearing 1923 licenses in Allen-co, according to the figures obtained from C. R. Phillips, county auditor.

SCHOOL PUPILS WILL HAVE OPPORTUNITY TO TAKE MUSIC LESSONS

Grade school pupils in Lima will have an opportunity starting in September to learn to play band and orchestra instruments free, under a plan now being developed by school officials.

Proceeds from the spring festival programs being given by the grade school pupils for various buildings, will be expended for the purchase of a number of musical instruments. On each Saturday morning, it has been planned, pupils will take instructions from Joseph Du Perre.

Judging from proceeds of the festivals put on by Horace Mann, Irving, Richards, Fairport, Franklin and Collins schools, Superintendent J. E. Collins said Wednesday, it is expected that nearly $1,000 will be cleared. The programs will be concluded with two festivals, the first, May 2, in which pupils from Emerson, Garfield and Longfellow buildings will take part and the other, May 4, when Lincoln and Whittier pupils will take part. These festivals are being put on by the departments of physical education and music.

SPENCERVILLE WALTER HELD TO GRAND JURY

George Crook, Spencerville waiter, rounded up by Toledo police was held to the grand jury at Van Wert Wednesday on a charge of taking part in the robbery of a garage at Conroy. Tires and accessories were stolen.

Crook is believed to have been connected with similar robberies perpetrated by Floyd Mofford, and others at Landeck, Ft. Jennings and other places in northwestern Ohio in the past year, officers declare.

It was brought to Lima Tuesday night and questioned briefly before being turned over to Van Wert-co. He is alleged to have admitted connection with the Conroy robbery.

Mofford, who was arrested in Spencerville April 13, has been bound over to the grand jury in Allen-co on the strength of his confession involving the Landeck Auto company garage robbery on January 23.

MAN WANTED HERE IS TAKEN IN CLEVELAND

Roy Bussie, alias Roy Johnson, alleged to be the man who escaped from Officer Webb Harrison and Detective Ward Taylor here Sunday, April 1, when they attempted to arrest him on a tip from Columbus, was in jail in Columbus Wednesday, charged with grand larceny and auto theft.

Chief T. A. Lanier was informed of the arrest Tuesday afternoon.

EXAMS THURSDAY

Civil service examination for prospective railway mail clerks will be held at the local post office Thursday. The examination is open to both men and women and the position carries an annual salary of $1,600 with possibility of promotion to other branches of the service.

LOT NUMBERS ASKED

Persons applying for building permits are asked to bring with them to city hall the number of the lot upon which they wish to build. Officials have had much difficulty in locating building projects and issuing permits because the owners do not furnish the lot number.

36 HOMES ADDED

West End Lots to be Ready for Building in 30 Days

Thirty-six homes will be erected in Bentz' Third Addition to the city of Lima, it was announced Wednesday. Construction will begin when platting and improvements have been completed. Frank H. Bentz said, which will be within 30 days.

Installation of sewers, permission for which was granted by the city commission Monday, will begin within a few days and paving petitions for Baxter-st from Ewing to Tremont, Murphy from Baxter west to the end of the addition, and Belvidere from Murphy to Tremont will be presented to the commission as soon as the addition becomes a part of the city.

Eighteen of the lots face Baxter-st between Murphy and Tremont and 18 others face on Belvidere between Murphy and Tremont.

Four residences in Wayne-st, between Nixon and Glenwood, are also under construction by the Bentz company. All are two-story six-room houses of frame and stucco construction.

BUILDING PERMITS

F. H. Bentz, two residences, Wayne-st, Oakland park addition, $4,500 each.

F. G. Hackman, Oakland Park, residence, $4,300.

Ray Campbell, two residences, Oakland Park addition, $7,000 each.

D. V. Clutter, 1420 E. High-st, two buildings, $100 each.

Max Luckhoff, Holmes and Hughes-av, store building, $430.

V. N. Coon, 1501 St. Johns-av, filling station, $250, remodel garage and residence, $200.

J. H. Working, E. Eureka-st, two garages, $250 each.

Edward Barnhardt, 418 N. Kentworth, garage, $100.

Charley Bird, 518 Eureka, remodel residence, $500.

J. N. Fontaine, 756 Weadock-av, garage, $55.

W. B. Yonkum, 433 W. Kibby-st, garage, $125.

SMALL FIRE LOAN

Trash and part of an old shed owned by Lester, at 609 E. Elm-st, was burned Wednesday afternoon. A bonfire started the blaze which did $10 damage.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

A young man who practiced medicine in Pennsylvania became famous and was called in consultation in many towns and cities because of his success in the treatment of disease. This was Dr. Pierce, who finally made up his mind to place some of his medicines before the public and moving to Buffalo, N. Y., put up what he called his "Favorite Prescription," and placed it with the druggists in every state.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has long been recognized as a tonic for diseases peculiar to womankind. After suffering pain, feeling nervous, dizzy, weak and dragged-down by weaknesses of her sex, a woman is quickly restored to health by its use. Thousands of women testify that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has entirely eradicated their distressing ailments.

More recently that wonderful discovery of Dr. Pierce's, called An-uric (for kidneys and backache), has been successfully used by many thousands who write Dr. Pierce of the benefits received—that their backache, rheumatism, and other symptoms of uric acid deposits in joints or muscles have been completely conquered by its use.

Send 10c to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial pkg. of any of his remedies, or write for free medical advice.

TAX RETURNS ARE COMING SLOWLY

Thousands of Dollars Penalties May be Exacted

MAY 1 IS CLOSING DATE

Only 40 Percent of Estimated Returns Are in

Thousands of dollars additional personal taxes will be added to the duplicate for 1923, as a result of the failure of citizens to file their personal returns before the time limit on exemptions has expired.

Attention to the situation was called by County Auditor C. R. Phillips Wednesday. May 1 is the final date for filing tax returns. After that date the penalty will be exacted and no exemption allowed. An exemption of $100 is allowed by assessors on returns filed with the county auditor to May 1.

Less than 40 per cent of the estimated returns in Allen-co have been filed, Phillips states. "I have never seen the returns come in so slowly," he declared. "There will be a lot of persons who will lose their exemption and will have to pay the penalty as well. They should not have waited until the last to file."

ARE NOT RUSHED
Assessors stationed in the court house corridors have been normally busy during the past few days. Time dragged on their hands however, when they first took their stations. They are to be found in the corridor, outside the auditor's office daily, ready to assist taxpayers in making out their returns.

Only five more days remain for filing Auditor Phillips points out. With less than 40 per cent of the returns in, he says, how can the assessors care for the other 60 per cent, provided the taxpayers all come in to have them filled out?

Assessors say that taxpayers who are making returns are listing much more property than was the case one year ago.

One year ago, assessors say, the workingman had been forced to sell the car bought during the war era and the electric piano and stuffed parlor suites were in pawn.

Now the taxpayer is staging a comeback.

A LETTER

To the People of Lima and Vicinity

By H. P. Maus

PRESIDENT THE MAUS PIANO CO.
Owing to the greatly increasing demand for radio outfits and supplies and for pipe organs, we are compelled to devote our entire time to this business, and therefore must discontinue the retail trade entirely.

We regret that we are soon to lose the pleasant direct business associations that we have had with the people in this community for 13 years.

In every business transaction we have tried always to make permanent friends and in this we believe we have succeeded. We have enjoyed a wonderful business and have built up a clientele that most concerns would be more than justly proud of. Square dealing, always giving the people good value for their money and always trying to play fair with everybody even when it sometimes proved our financial loss,—these are some of the things that have made thousands of Maus satisfied patrons.

Now folks, we are quitting the piano and general retail business forever. We are making tremendous sacrifices to close out our entire stock on hand within the next three weeks. We wish to clean out everything—pianos, phonographs, all musical instruments, and store fixtures—even the very pictures on the walls.

However, we are not leaving Lima. Our factory for the manufacture of radio outfits and pipe organs will be located at Defiance, Ohio, but we will maintain an office in our present location from which place we will conduct our wholesale business and take care of our service to retail patrons. In other words, you folks who buy merchandise from us during the last three weeks of our closing out sale will receive the same courteous treatment, the same service AFTER the sale, that we have always given our patrons.

Now, a last word: Do not confuse this sale with any ordinary piano or phonograph sale. We MUST quit the retail business and we have only three weeks in which to do this. We know that it is going to mean the loss of a great deal of money, for we have been slashed till there is little or no profit left. Rather than bulk our stock to any jobber or wholesaler or other dealer, who might be glad to take it off our hands at the prices we are asking you, we offer the savings to the people of Lima and vicinity.

This is a bona fide GOING-OUT-OF-BUSINESS SALE. We invite your patronage and assure the same courtesy that you would receive were we merely starting in business. Thousands of instruments sold by the Maus Piano Company are being used in Lima and vicinity. These we will continue to give service from our present location in the future just as we have in the past. You who buy this week, or the next, or the next and last week of the sale, will receive the same service. All instruments are fully guaranteed by us and we refer you to any bank in Lima as to our responsibility.

MRS. F. A. IRWIN, LIMA, OHIO'S YOUNGEST GREAT GRANDMOTHER

Mrs. F. A. Irwin, 57, of 502 Hal-ler-st., is probably the youngest great grandmother in Ohio.

Mrs. Irwin is the mother of Mrs. Edward Howard, 40, of Greenville, Ohio. The next generation shown in the picture above is represented by Mrs. Phillip Hess, 21, also of Greenville. She is seen holding little Mary Hess, seven months, the representative of the fourth generation.

An unusual feature of the situation is that each of the three women and the baby bear the name of Mary.

Mrs. Irwin is the mother of 12 children, has nine grandchildren and one great grandchild.

WOOL POOL FORMING
Wool pool contracts for Putnam-co sheep men are coming in rapidly, according to advices at farm bureau headquarters. All expecting to co-operate in marketing must have contracts in by May 1, County Agent Henceroth reports.

BROTHER OF ALLEN-CO PEOPLE DIES BY OWN ACT

Ervin W. Grubb, 19, whose home is in Ohio City, Van Wert-co, was found dead in the home of Mrs. Laura Dunifon, 1718 Milan-st, Fort Wayne, his sister, late Tuesday. His sister found him with a smoking .38 calibre revolver nearby. He left notes to his sweetheart, Helen Brown and the sister with whom he had been living.

The boy suffered from heart trouble following service in the world war.

His parents reside in Ohio City, two brothers and one sister in Fort Wayne and one brother and sister near Lima.

MATRESS FACTORY BLAZE
A fire late Tuesday at the Lima Matress factory, N. Main-st., did damage estimated at $250. Several bales of cotton were burned.

Shebas Worst Sheiks When Fight Starts

Petting Party Breaks Up in Row, Sheriff Is Told

Two girls of the flapper type, believed to be from Lima worsted two "sheiks" in a fistie encounter staged in a meadow near the farm home of Carl Boegel, Brower-rd, at nightfall Tuesday, Sheriff Harvey Crosson, who was summoned to investigate, was told.

The battle was observed by Mrs. Carl Boegel. According to her version of the affair, the couples drove up in a sedan, alighted and climbed over into a field.

An altercation occurred, and the four fell to fighting. The "sheiks," Mrs. Boegel told Sheriff Crosson, seemed to be under the influence of liquor.

After cutting the "sheiks" about a bit, the girls escaped after a short struggle and ran back toward the car. Their clothing was torn, and make-ups displaced in the encounter. They reached the car ahead of their pursuers and drove west toward Cole-st. road, leaving the "sheiks" spluttering and cursing.

SHERIFF SUMMONED
Mrs. Boegel called the sheriff, but before he arrived a passing car is said to have picked up the youths and brought them to Lima.

The two boys were tall and slender, the Valentino type, affecting bell-bottom trousers, freak fashioned coats and "patent leather" hair.

Brower-rd leads west from West-st. road, at a point just south of the Shappell oil station. Sheriff Crosson made a search in the vicinity, driving north as far as Kissing Hollow, a favorite spot for petting parties. Petting parties are being resumed along secluded roads near Lima, Crosson declares. He ordered several suspicious couples with cars parked along the roads, to move on. As a curb to summer petting, Crosson may have roads near the city patrolled after night by a deputy on a motor cycle. Liquor seems to be a necessary requisite to the roadside spooning matches, officers charge.

MRS. NANCY FUNK, BATH-TP PIONEER WOMAN, SUMMONED

Mrs. Nancy J. Funk, 71, pioneer resident of Allen-co died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. S. B. Fletcher, Bath-tp, following an illness of one year from complications. Besides the daughter at whose home she died, two grandchildren and four great-grandchildren also survive. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

SCHMIRER ORDERED IN
First action resulting from the county wide cleanup week was taken Wednesday by Dr. J. J. Sutter, county health commissioner, in summoning Charles E. Schmire, Findlay-rd, to appear before him and explain why orders to dispose of garbage and offal accumulation on his farm, have not been obeyed. Sutter stated.

Gets Pleasant Surprise
"About 6 months ago my father was very sick with his stomach, which had been troubling him for several years. Three doctors said he had cancer and one said it was gall stones—all agreed an operation necessary, but on account of his age I was afraid to risk it. I told a friend about it who said his wife had been through the same trouble and had been cured by taking Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. I at once bought a bottle for father and he is now as strong as a bear and can eat more ham and cabbage than any 3 men." It removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. 21 GRADUATES AT COLUMBUS GROVE

Eugene Lippincott, Lima, to Deliver Class Address

Members of the Columbus Grove high school graduating class of 1923, who will be presented with diplomas May 18 comprise 19 girls and only two boys. This is an unusual feature, school officials say, which never before attended senior classes in the history of the institution.

The class is larger than of 1922 by four and is considerably above the average in size. Indications are that succeeding classes will also be much larger. The present freshmen class is three times larger than the senior enrollment. The high school was enjoyed an increase from 95 to 160 in the last two years.

Superintendent E. F. Smith announced Wednesday the class exercises and commencement will be held May 18. The class play, "Daddy Long Legs," will be presented May 16. The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered Sunday, May 13, at the Presbyterian church, but the minister has not yet been announced.

All 21 members of the class will be included in the cast of the play, which will be in four acts. It will be presented at Day's opera house at 8:15 p. m. The class exercises also will be held there. An admission of 50 cents will be charged for the exercises and play together.

The class address will be delivered by Eugene Lippincott, president of the class, who will participate in the program and their parts are as follows:

Validictory, Miss Alice Davies; salutator, Miss Helen Smith; class history, Miss Louise Holmes; class prophecy, Miss Janet Doty; class will, Miss Ilo Morris; "Education and Ideals," Miss Irene Good; "The Real American," Miss Lela Rigganbach.

The annual junior-senior reception will be held during graduation week, but the exact date has not yet been decided.

Superintendent Smith announces the following class roll for the year 1923:

MODEST OWNER OF CHOICE SOYBEANS LOSES CUM

Too modest!
That ailment has afflicted Putnam-co farmer, but to their detriment, according to J. W. Henceroth, agricultural agent.

He relates that farmers have been directed to others in many parts of the state having good soybean seed for sale, but none seemed to know that right in the county was seed just as good until... Henceroth relates, "one of our leading farmers brought to the farm bureau office the finest sample of soybeans we have seen in a long time. Of course, his neighbors were not buying it because they could not see thru the sides of his barn to know it was there."

"It pays to advertise," Henceroth added.

PUTNAM-CO MEN TO VISIT FEEDER MEET AT WOOSTER

David Conn, president of the Putnam-co farm bureau, H. R. Williams, president of the county shippers' association, Frank Giesken, county commissioner, P. Prantz, county farm manager and J. W. Henceroth, county farm agent, will accompany a delegation of citizens to Wooster, for the Ohio swine and cattle feeders' gathering, May 3 and 4. Anyone desiring reservations should call the farm bureau office at once.

Various hogs and cattle fed on different rations will be studied. Expert feeders and market men will explain the results secured by use of actual stock fed.

KERNER INTERESTS ON MONUMENT WORKS SOLD

According to papers filed in Putnam-co probate court, John Falke and Frank Falke, surviving partners of the Falke Bros. & Kerner company, tombstone manufacturers, elect to take over the interests of Theodore J. Kerner, deceased.

The administrator of the estate, B. A. Unwerth, gives consent to the purchase of the interests for $1,318.40. They gave bond in the sum of $1,500.

The tombstone shop is located on W. Main-st., Ottawa.

OTTAWA K. C. TO CONFER FIRST DEGREE ON CLASS

First degree work will be conferred upon a class of candidates at an initiatory event of Ottawa council, Knights of Columbus, May 3, Grand Knight L. A. Labadie announced.

The following Sunday the class will receive the second and third degrees at Delphos. The council there is making preparations to initiate 40 or more.

PUTNAM-CO POULTRY FLOCK IS CERTIFIED

Putnam-co was entered in the list of counties having certified poultry flocks when George S. Vickers, extension specialist, certified 27 hens and two cockerels of the White Rock breed for J. H. Schwell, Montevideo, Pa. This is the first certified poultry flock in Putnam-co. There are only 20 in Ohio.

Each must have a particularly good record and be inspected and branded by a state man before being certified.

OTTAWA COUNCIL GETS REQUESTS FOR PERMITS FOR TWO GAS STATIONS

Applications of two persons to erect gasoline filling stations were considered Tuesday night at a special session of Ottawa council.

L. A. Labadie, representing the Ottawa company, was given permission to construct a station at Main and Locust-sts and lay out a driveway thru the lot to allow autos to drive up to the filling place. A small cottage located on the site at present will be moved back.

Henry W. Butler presented an application to install a gasoline tank and filling station at Third-st and Railroad-av. Several technicalities in this resolution were incomplete, however, and permission was withheld until later.

Councilmen declare an application from the Johnson Oil company, which recently purchased a site at Third and Locust-sts for $2,800, to construct a gasoline station will probably be presented at the next meeting.

PUTNAM-CO HIGHWAY IS UNDERGOING RESURFACING

A detour sign was placed Wednesday morning by County Surveyor H. B. Schneck at the corner of the school, two miles south of Ottawa, directing vehicle drivers around the section of the Lima-Ottawa road now being re-surfaced.

The detour is slightly over four miles in length and ends at Columbus Grove. It is routed by way of Pandora. A similar sign has been placed at the south end.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Marriage licenses were issued in Putnam-co probate court to Otto Davidson, 3, Bladenburg, evangelist, and Lou Mootz, 31, Continental, missionary; also to Louis M. Grant, 49, and Fannie L. Rancor, 39, both of Montevideo.

Publication of banns was recorded by Rev. W. W. Kallie in the marriage of Clemens Schulte and Loretta Verhoff.

TRAFFIC OBJECTION ON SQUARE TO BE REMOVED

East and west traffic on Market-st will be permitted to drive straight thru the public square, it was announced Wednesday after the Lima City Street Railway company agreed to the city's proposal to establish four safety zones in the middle of the square for passengers waiting for street cars.

At present east and west traffic is compelled to drive to the north or south end of the square. The parabolic parking system established last week leaves only a narrow lane thru the middle of the square and with street car passengers standing about in the middle of the public square the hazard of accident was too great, it was said, to permit traffic to drive thru.

The street car company will install iron posts, joined by chains, in four corners in the center of the square. Signs will be placed on the cars which elop at each zone. Passengers waiting for cars will be required to stand within the boundaries of the zones marked off by the chains.

PITOMETER COMPANY IS SEEKING WATER LEAKS

Work at the city water works pumping station was begun Wednesday by engineers of the Pitometer company of Detroit, in its survey of water leakage.

The amount of water lost by slipping of the pumps will be measured and the amount of water that should go thru city mains will also be determined.

The company will measure the amount of water actually consumed and can then determine how much is lost; it will then locate leakage.

BINGHAM STARTS NEW DRIVE FOR WATCHMAN

Clippings from The Lima News and photographs of the wrecked automobile at the High-st crossing of the D. T. & L. Railroad were sent Wednesday by City Manager C. S. Bingham to the state public utilities commission.

Request was made some time ago by city officials that some action be taken to require the railroad to place safety gates at the crossing. The state commission promised to investigate the crossing but has never done so.

DENTISTS MEET TONIGHT FOR OFFICER ELECTION

Officers for the coming year will be elected at a dinner session of the Lima society of the Northwest Dental society at the Barr hotel Wednesday evening at 6 p. m.

Dr. Guy Bryson, an out of town member of the society, will speak to dental dentists on the subject of "Prophylaxis."

Dr. G. L. Brunk is president of the local association.

ROUNDHEAD BOY INJURED; IS IN LIMA HOSPITAL

Brice Irwin, eight year old son of N. L. Irwin of Roundhead, was brought to the City hospital Tuesday evening for treatment of a crushed vertebrae.

The boy sustained the injury by falling from a tree. His body was placed in a plaster cast Wednesday. Recovery is probable, it is stated at the hospital.

COUNCIL ACTS IN STREET PAVING

Votes for Brick With Tar Filler, at Delphos

Delphos city council met Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. to consider the paving of three streets, S. Main-st, S. Pierce-st and Cleveland-st, bids for which were received last Thursday.

Councilman Ben Davis offered a motion that council recommend to the board of control that the contract be awarded to the company with the lowest bid on vitrified brick, with tar filler. The motion was seconded by Councilman Frank Piffner, and carried by an unanimous vote.

Rules were suspended and the first, second and final reading was heard on the ordinance asked for by Mayor J. K. Williams at the last council meeting, compelling owners of the motor vehicles to carry license tags. Delphos formerly had no city ordinance covering this traffic violation.

When the matter of the improving and widening three Delphos thoroughfares, Lima-av, S. Main-st and Cleveland-st, was taken up, it was never advertised and the number on foot had been left blank. The present width of the streets is 18 feet. Council was informed by the City Solicitor R. A. Lindemann that it would be necessary to adopt a separate resolution calling for the improvement of six feet on each side of the streets, making a total of 30 feet. The type of improvement will be the same as used on the Haring Highway.

Councilman Ben Davis introduced a resolution calling for the paving of the alley from E. Second-st to the Pennsylvania Railroad, between Main and Washington-sts.

A wave of motions swept over the council room from other members, about used of paving alleys in all parts of the city.

All were tabled until the property owners are interviewed to ascertain sentiment.

The city would have to stand the cost of the alley and street intersections, it is pointed out.

OTTAWA BABE HAS FINGER MANGLED IN POWER GEARS

Paul Dangler, aged 13 months, son of Vernon Dangler, of Ottawa, wandered away from the family home near the noon hour Tuesday and went to the residence of Clark Wells, across the street.

Mrs. Wells was operating a power washing machine and did not know the Dangler child was near it until she heard screams. The child's left hand was caught in gears and crushed in such a manner that amputation of the third finger was necessary.

LOCAL TRAINS WILL BE REPLACED ON P. FT. W. & C.

Two local trains in the Pennsylvania Railroad schedule taken off in January, will be put back in service Monday, according to J. Knell, agent at Delphos.

One train will pass west at 9:27 a. m. and the eastbound train is scheduled in Delphos at 3:10 p. m., daily except Sunday.

Since these two trains were taken off, fast trains have been making local stops on flag. It has been found that it is more costly than maintaining the local trains, Knell stated.

Other trains will change time Sunday, but the new schedules have not been received in Delphos.

AWFUL HEADACHES AND MISERY

A Lima Lady Suffered for Months Before She Found the Plant Juice

DID HER WORLD OF GOOD

"I am glad to tell my friends about your Plant Juice because it surely did me a world of good," said Mrs. C. E. Riegle, of 225 East Vine-st, Lima, while talking with The Plant Juice Man recently at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, where large crowds of local people are calling daily to have this surprising herbal medicine explained to them.

"For months I had suffered with headaches and had an awful misery in my sides," Mrs. Riegle continued. "My appetite was poor and I had to be very careful about what I ate and all of my food would seem to be food for worms in my limbs and felt tired and worn out all the time and could not sleep right."

"It was just a short time ago that I started to take your Plant Juice medicine and I began to improve from the first until now the pains are gone from my head and side and my limbs are improved. I can eat now without any distress afterward; am able to get a good night's rest and that tired, worn out feeling has left me."

"I know your Plant Juice is a fine medicine and I am glad to recommend it to my friends."

Plant Juice is a combination of medicinal herbs, which have an effect upon the stomach, liver, kidneys and nerves. Many people who take this herbal medicine, Plant Juice, say it seems to act like magic. It has given relief in more than a million cases in all parts of the United States.

The Plant Juice Man is at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, Lima, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

Plant Juice is sold also in Lima at Hunter's drug store at Main and Wayne streets and at the Argonne drug store, opposite Post Office.

NAPOLEON MAN GIVEN CONTRACT

Board of Control at Delphos Places $101,851 Job

The board of control of Delphos, composed of Mayor J. K. Williams and Safety-Service Director Ed Spellman, met Wednesday morning and voted on the bids of eight contractors received for paving three Delphos thoroughfares.

Both men voted for the contract to be awarded the J. J. Johnson company of Napoleon, the lowest bidder on vitrified brick with tar filler, his bid being $101,851.67.

The award was drawn up, but up to noon Wednesday had not been signed, it was stated.

A petition was presented to the board of control Saturday by property owners on the three streets, asking that vitrified brick be used, with asphalt filler.

George Z. Walther, of Delphos, was low bidder on this type of material and filler.

According to the figures submitted in the bids, the difference between the figures of the two contractors with the two types of filler was only $36.58.

The vote of the board of control was in accordance with the recommendation made Tuesday night by the city council.

Delphos city council took up at its meeting Tuesday night discussion of methods of trimming trees.

The parley came up when one councilman stated that property owners were killing and not trimming the trees.

Setting a certain time of the year for this work was also advocated, as well as limiting the number and length of branches that could be cut off. No decided action was taken.

Edwin Dreizin, 533 N. Main-st, Delphos, who had been in that city about a month, as relief agent for the A. C. Y. Railroad company, was arrested at noon Tuesday by Chief of Police H. A. Kehres, after charges had been filed against him by John Jordan, Pittsburg, Pa.

Jordan charges that Dreizin had been unlawfully living with a woman named as Emma Jordan at Delphos. Arrangements were made for the removal of Dreizin to Lima Tuesday afternoon, it is stated.

Jordan asserted he would file charges of adultery and violation of the Mann act against Dreizin. He also declared he would commence a civil action for alienation of affections, officers state.

STEINLE FUNERAL AT DELPHOS ON FRIDAY

Funeral services for Felix Steinle, 76, who died at his home on E. Second-st, will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the St. John's Catholic church. Interment will be in Walnut Grove cemetery. Death was due to hardening of the arteries.

Word was received Wednesday that a son, Captain Felix Steinle, Jr., aviator, at the Crissle Aviation Field San Francisco, Cal., would be unable to attend the funeral as he could not get leave of absence.

The deceased was former, a senior member of the Steinle-Delphos company and director in the Commercial Bank of Delphos and had made his home in Delphos since 1883.

DELPHOS PEOPLE WILL ENTER VAN WERT TESTS

A special car has been chartered by the members of the Delphos high school to carry contestants to Van Wert, Friday, to compete in the statefod to be held there on that date.

The party will leave Delphos at 1:30 p. m. and will compete in both the afternoon and evening events.

Preliminary contest to decide who will represent Delphos high school will be held Wednesday evening at the Jefferson building auditorium.

Poultry and Dairy Demonstration Train in Lima

LECTURES TONIGHT PLANNED

Indiana Potatoes Received Here For Seed

The Erie Railroad state university demonstration train arrived in Lima at 10:20 a. m. Wednesday and is on exhibition at the Erie tracks near the station.

The train consists of poultry and dairy exhibits and experts will be at the cars all day, to answer any questions local producers may care to ask.

Prof. Oscar Erl, of the dairy department, of the state university, said to be the best dairymen in the state, will lecture Wednesday evening at 7:30 at the Board of Commerce auditorium.

The train will be on the local tracks until 10:22 a. m. Thursday when it will leave for Harrod.

Operation of the second farmers' commission firm to be established in the United States will begin May 10 at Cleveland, Carson F. Mertz, manager of the Allen-co Live Stock association, announced Wednesday.

The commission company, under control of farmers' live stock association of Indiana, Michigan and Ohio, will be open to all shippers. Profits will be prorated to members of the firm. The management is in the hands of experienced commissionmen, Mertz said.

Farmers have had in operation for the past six months a commission firm at Buffalo which has overcome a boycott and a severe loss sustained the first two months of operation and is today being conducted profitably, it is declared.

It is planned to establish a third commission house in Pittsburg, said Wednesday.

The second car load of seed potatoes ordered from the local farm bureau offices was available to farmers who ordered them Wednesday. The car consisted of Indiana potatoes.

SUCCESS IS SEEN FOR GINGHAM BALL FRIDAY

The Red Cross Gingham ball, under preparation for the past two weeks, will be given Friday at the Elk's home and more than 500 persons are expected to attend.

Decisions as to the prettiest costume worn at the ball will be made by representatives from each of the Lions, Kiwanis and Rotary clubs, Howard Miller, Mark Kotler and George Bally, respectively.

Proceeds of the ball will benefit the Junior and nursing divisions of the Red Cross.

AUTO BILLS OF SALE HIT NEW HIGH MARK

Registration of automobile bills of sale touched high water mark Wednesday when the transfers for 91 cars were placed on record in the office of John T. O'Connell, clerk of the courts. The record indicates the transfer of both old and new machines.

The law requires that a bill of sale, showing the transfer of a car, be filed not more than 10 days after the transaction is made.

MARSHALL TEAM APFRANGES TWICE-A-WEEK PRACTICE

Members of Marshall's Sporting Goods company baseball team will practice from 4 to 6 o'clock, Wednesday and Friday evenings at Murray park. Manager Marshall announced Tuesday.

There are several positions open on the club and officials are anxious to get a strong front ready to face the barrier at Van Wert in the opening battle of the season.

ROCKPORT BOY, STUDENT, DIES AT HOSPITAL HERE

Paul Basset, 19, died Wednesday at 4 a. m. at the District Tuberculosis hospital following an illness of two months resulting from influenza. Prior to entering the hospital four weeks ago, he was a student at Ohio Northern University, Ada.

Surviving is one sister, Mrs. Harry Yant, of near Rockport, with whom he lived. Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

Robinson Circus Highly Pleasing; Thousands See It

The first circus of the season came to Lima yesterday. The famous aggregation which has been on tour for a century pleases thousands who attended the afternoon and evening performances.

Fathers and mothers who remember this as the first circus they witnessed as children took their offspring yesterday and were agreeably surprised at the great strides made in this form of entertainment.

The Robinson show was highly pleasing. It was clean, snappy and well staged. If any criticism were to be offered, it would be that there was too much. Although the acts were handled without a hitch, it required two and a half hours for the afternoon performance.

There were a number of outstanding features. The opening extravaganza was unique and highly pleasing. The substitution of a number of new additions to take the place of some worn-out circus features made for a big improvement.

Too many acts were worthy of mention to attempt to enumerate them. A few words of praise, however, are due Peter Taylor for his thrilling act with a mixed cage of jungle beasts. This exhibition undoubtedly was the best of its kind ever witnessed in this city.

The circus yesterday would certainly measure up to the fondest dreams of that noted showman whose name it bears—John Robinson.

MEASLES DEVELOP IN COUNTY

Hundred Cases Scattered Over Wide Territory

An epidemic of measles threatens the county, if care is not taken to prevent a spread of the disease, Dr. J. Sutter, county health commissioner, stated Tuesday.

There are in the county about 160 cases of measles at the present time, Dr. Sutter states. No one section of the county has an especial monopoly on the trouble, he says.

Every case of measles should be reported to the health officers, Dr. Sutter declares, and if a physician is not called, responsibility for reporting the case lies with the parent. Advice of a physician should be sought in each case, regardless of the lightness of the disease, he declares.

The disease usually follows exposure about the eighth or ninth day and possibility of taking it extends to the 14th day. No restriction is placed upon the exposed until the second week, at which time the disease is communicable. If measles do not appear within the second week, danger is past and the exposed is free from further restrictions. Disappearance of the rash also terminates the period of restriction, the health commissioner says.

Quarantine extends usually only 10 days and a physician's certificate is necessary to reenter school.

"The chief danger of measles is to children of pre-school age," Dr. Sutter says. "The disease should be kept out of homes with babies. The mortality rate is heaviest with infants and every precaution should be taken to keep the disease out of homes where there are very young children."

ITCHY PIMPLES DISFIGURED FACE

Large, Red and Festered. Cuticura Healed.

"My trouble began with pimples on my face. I picked them and they scattered worse than ever. The pimples were large, red and festered, and itched. I was always scratching them and they left red blotches all over my face which was very much disfigured.

"The trouble lasted about three years. I tried several remedies but none of them had any effect. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using three cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." IMMIGRATION GATES UP APPEAL made by E. H. Gary for a modification of the immigration restriction laws has met with such a decided frost that the head of the steel corporation has been impelled to say that he did not suggest lifting restrictions in the first place.

Congressman John L. Cable, backing up the declarations of Chairman Johnson of the house committee on immigration, started something when he exposed the basis of the Gary plea. In the parlance of the street, the steel corporation representative had the administration "on the wagon" until the facts about immigration began to come out.

Even the secretary of labor was falling for it until he was brought up with a sharp turn in a realization that Gary was seeking only the opportunity to flood the country with cheap labor, in the interests of the steel trust. The labor secretary is now repeating the assertions made by Chairman Johnson and Congressman Cable, that instead of the presence of thousands of workers and non-workers among aliens admitted indiscriminately relieving the "embarrassment of prosperity," it would "serve to bring prosperity to an end."

It is now pointed out that before the World war American industry was able to absorb about 700,000 new workers every year. That figure is now less than 200,000. It should be remembered too that if the difference of 500,000 was necessary, industry would then be at a standstill. The labor shortage is only about two per cent of the total number of persons who could be employed.

A labor publication speaks true when it says that the day is past when labor can be dealt with on a quantity basis. It must be conserved and developed. This can only be done by fair dealing and consistent program of education. This is not a theory, for it is being done with good success most everywhere. It makes for less danger of labor troubles.

Immigration gates are up and they should remain up against a flood of aliens. Protective immigration has proven its necessity and value.

PRIZE WINNER

IN a Pullman smoking compartment we heard a very rich man boasting that he had won a season baseball pass in a "guessing contest" conducted by a newspaper.

"I worked nights for a week," he chuckled, "and darned if I didn't hit it just right!"

In a rough way we know the amount of this man's wealth, by reputation, and we figure that it cost him at least $500 worth of time to win the prize that he could have bought for less than $100. Of course, he worked it out spare time, but spare time is valuable to him because it is needed for relaxation from brain work. Then too, obsessed with winning the prize, he probably had it on his mind, detracting his attention from his occupation during general working hours of the day.

Eliminate the cash end, it doesn't matter much. For he'd have been just as elated if he had won a prize of $1

HOW do you explain this rich man's jubilation over a victory that wasn't worth the price it cost—to him?

Your first explanation probably is, "He got something for nothing."

There is no thrill like finding money—getting it without effort. Probably this is a reaction from the enslaving system that keeps our noses to the grindstone. The average millionaire gets a bigger thrill from finding a $5 goldpiece than from cleaning up $1000 in a business deal. And, no matter how valuable his time, he'll delay what ever he was intent on, and search the premises to see if more $5 goldpieces are nearby.

You know how this weakness persists in our subconscious minds and rises to the conscious surface during dreams in which we find coin after coin until our pockets are filled.

"Something for nothing" is the lure that wastes time and takes the suckers' savings.

A GREATER motive than "something for nothing" however, animated the rich man in the baseball guessing contest. His thrill, as victor, came mostly from the realization that in winning he demonstrated cleverness superior to that of the other contestants.

In a battle of wits, he won. That is the motive of your "business genius," as much as and often more than the actual accumulation of profits.

Vanity—pride—is our motive in the things we do, a lot oftener and to greater extent than any of us realize.

Amundsen is on his way to fly over the north pole, when going around would be much more sensible.

A dope is to cost 15c, which should put a quart of gingerale around Hayner's old pegged price, of 45c. And they used to call 'em rich saloonists and millionaires brewers.

THE GOLDEN RULE

Improved sanitation has no appreciable influence upon the prevalence of smallpox, measles, scarlet fever, pneumonia or diphtheria—all of which are respiratory infections. That is, the virus or germ of the disease is present in the moisture spray given off from the nose and mouth when the patient coughs, sneezes or talks, and the invisibly fine droplets of moisture carrying the virus or germs lodge upon the face, lips, nose or mouth of the victim exposed, unless precautions are taken to prevent that happening. It is a fatal mistake, the one which even some sanitarians make, to imagine that respiratory infections are "air borne." They are none of them carried by or thru the air, save in the direct manner droplet or spray infection, just mentioned. There is no evidence that any communicable disease is carried in the air. Even in case of smallpox, an unvaccinated person would be safe in the room with the patient provided he kept outside of the range of the patient's mouth spray, which is not to exceed five feet during ordinary conversation.

All of the other respiratory infections (I have listed two dozen disease conditions which belong in this category) are transmitted in precisely the same manner as diphtheria, smallpox and scarlet fever. This includes, of course, the least alarming, if not the least serious respiratory infection, coryza, still Greek to those who call it "cold in the head." All of the "childhood diseases" if we must confess that children have any particular need for the eruptive fevers and whooping cough and mumps, are respiratory infections. If people in general were educated to acknowledge the responsibility for the spread of such diseases, if the professional guardians of public health were a little less enamored of the catching cold delusion and a little less fearful of what folks would think of a modern scientific conception of the matter, these cruel diseases which haunt childhood would soon become as rare as typhoid fever now is in enlightened communities.

As I have said repeatedly, and without contradiction by any health authority, no one can forestall what an alleged "cold" will prove to be—it may turn out to be any one of the score or more of diseases I listed as respiratory infections. That being true, it is never justifiable for a person with an oncoming disposition or illness of this kind to associate with other persons unless he wears a suitable mask.

Some parents permit children with whooping cough to play with other children or to attend indoor gatherings where non-immunes may be exposed. This is a crime punishable under the ordinances in most communities. Some parents send children with "just slight colds" to school—a crime just as heinous if not as punishable. Some working people decline to "give up" when they are developing such an illness, but insist upon going to the shop or office, where they expose every unfortunate who comes within five feet of them.

The golden rule of hygiene is: Give not what you would not take. QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

What is the cause and cure of the throat?—Mrs. M-A

Answer—Trismus is a medical term.

Can't Stop Joint Ease

"You can't stop people from buying Joint-Ease for sore throat and cold in chest," writes one of our druggists friends. "They say it's best ever."

We know that, of course, but please remember that Joint-Ease is for stiff, swollen, painful joints, whether rheumatic or not, and its tremendous sale for that purpose proves that it is the one joint remedy that gets the most satisfying results.

A tube costs 60 cents at Hunter's Drug Stores, and druggists everywhere. Just rub it on and in a few seconds it disappears completely under the skin, and relief follows instantly.—Adv.

JUST FOLKS

By Edgar A. Guest

BOOK LOVER'S COMPANY

We thumbed the pages of a few old books,
Read here and there a quaint or lovely line;
As men who walk together thru a mine
Long since deserted, so we peered in nooks
And crannies, and said: "Here, this looks
Like gold or silver or some treasure, fine!
Let us now claim it, make it yours
and Mine—"

Here is a thought as clear as running brooks,
Just two of us, we sat—and yet there came
Writers of old, sagacious, keen and wise,
Men long since dead who live but in a name;
Down from their shelves they jumped before our eyes
And shyness in all our journeys of delight,
Oh, we had kingly company that night.

Your system demands ALL BRAN if constipation is to be relieved!

Your system needs the "roughage" that Kellogg's Bran, cooked and kneaded, supplies. For, it will not only permanently relieve constipation if it is eaten regularly, but its full content of the vital elements of wheat will build health and strength in a wonderful way.

You need bran in its full and benevolent strength and that's what you get in Kellogg's Bran—ALL BRAN! You eat Kellogg's Bran for relief and you get relief in a way that nature planned. Foods with a bran mixture cannot help the man, woman or child who faces grave illness through constipation. You must have ALL BRAN—"roughage" that will sweep and clean and purify and bring health back!

Children should be given Kellogg's Bran each day; grown people should eat Kellogg's each day—at least two tablespoonsful, in chronic cases with each meal. Its mechanical action will afford permanent relief.

And you will find Kellogg's Bran a delight to eat because it is so delicious. As a cereal sprinkled on other hot or cold cereals, or used in countless baked goods, or in cooking, its nut-like flavor will thrill your appetite—and each spoonful means so much in permanently relieving constipation and in warding off this gravest national ailment. Kellogg's recipes are printed on each package.

Start the entire family eating Kellogg's Bran to-day. See the color come back to faded cheeks; see the snap that will go into lagging steps. Kellogg's Bran is wonderful. All grocers sell it!

Keep fit and fine with WRIGLEYS

after every meal.

Eat wisely, chew your food well—then give your digestion a "kick" with WRIGLEY'S.

Sound teeth, a good appetite and proper digestion mean MUCH to your health.

WRIGLEY'S is a helper in all this work—a pleasant, beneficial pick-me-up.

Pure materials, scientific manufacture, absolute cleanliness—then sealed against all impurity. That is WRIGLEY'S as you get it—fresh and full-flavored.

Final Appearance of "Father On His Vacation" Tonight

"FATHER On His Vacation," the new musical comedy, based on the ever-popular comedies by George McManus, opened to a capacity house at the Faurot last night. It is in three acts and runs the gamut of the best laugh-provoking ingredients embodied in any similar entertainment. All the famous characters, including the beloved Jiggs, Maggie, his termagant wife, Dinty and the rest of the Mahoney clan are at their best.

This season Jiggs endeavors to have a "rest." That is, he seeks a respite from the nagging, harassing and baneful and ceaseless "in-

Keith Vaudeville At Faurot On Thursday

KEITH vaudeville will again be seen at the Faurot Opera House on Thursday when five acts of unusual calibre are scheduled to appear. The bill will remain over Sunday.

Miss Mindell Kingston and George Ebner present the initial act which they call, "This and That." Ebner is declared to be an excellent comedian and in this particular skit has opportunity for some unusual imitations of horns. Miss Kingston dance and sings and will make a pleasing appearance.

Harry Rapp, the eccentric violinist, is said to be a genius on the violin. His personality is different from any other comedian of his kind and his playing is unique and exceptional.

In a delightful skit called "Why Cry," Minnie Allen and Annie Kent

"Robin Hood" Depicts Spirits Of Chivalry and Romance

COUNTLESS inquiries are being made as to what elements enter into the motion picture sensation, "Douglas Fairbanks in Robin Hood," which Douglas Fairbanks is bringing to the screen.

According to Fairbanks himself, this latest of his truly epochal photoplays, which is appearing this week at the Lyric theatre, under a United Artists release, is a combination of fact and fancy, a vital drama depicting the chivalrous and romantic spirit of the Twelfth Century, comprising an enchanting mixture of the fairy tale and a gorgeous display of the valorous deeds of eight hundred years ago. It is, in short, the presentation of an impression inspired by historical fact and with a beautiful historical background.

It was no small task to conceive or perfect the integral parts which make up this masterly cinema achievement. Primarily, it required five months to gather all available data on the Norman period before the first step could be taken toward actual work of producing the picture.

This exhaustive research work was undertaken by a corps of recognized authorities on ten various subjects involved and was headed by Dr. Arthur Woods. Their quest for knowledge took them abroad where they delved into all the records they could find and where they visited all the museums containing relics of that age. Most of their time was spent in England.

The final result of this research was a combination of facts with a resultant collective interpretation of the prevalent spirit of the Crusades from which emanated a version, a conception formed just as a painter, a poet or a novelist might form conceptions of historical facts.

The dreamer was then summoned to embellish by brush and pen in order that there might be created dramatic proportions; an engrossing story with a co-ordinated plot.

Therefore, so far as the story is concerned, it has all the imaginative charm of perfect fiction with a historical background and yet replete with romance and thrills, poetic and artistic. Summed up, "Douglas fluence" of Maggie. Although he eventually wins out, his success is not unattended by those turn of events and pitfalls that seem to be the lot of every individual who tries to break up the conventions of a thoroughly established custom.

The large and capable chorus offers many delightful novelties including "China Town," "Three O'clock in the Morning" and a host of others. Dinty and Jiggs pleased immensely with several vocal numbers.

"Father On His Vacation" will be seen for the last time tonight at the Faurot.

offer one of the season's novelties, written by Miss Kent who is a writer of note as well as a capable vaudeville artist. "Why Cry" is a concoction depended upon to bring many laughs and the two artists get the most out of the brilliant repartee and ludicrous situations.

The Big City Four, who have led in quartette honors more than a decade, will be seen in a repertoire of popular and classical numbers. Harmony is the predominate feature of the offering but comedy also has its place.

A flash of youth, beauty, song and fancy steps. This is the keynote of Minnie Vanity's offering, which is the headline. All are graduates from musical productions who are noted for their singing, dancing and instrumental numbers and offer the latest in songs and steps.

Fairbanks in Robin Hood," as presented by Fairbanks, gives a vivid impression of the spirit of chivalry as it dominated England eight centuries ago.

It is an enlightening visualization of a spirit of stirring times begone in "terms" while the great public in this ultra-modern age will understand, appreciate and enjoy.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid liver.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 50c.

Let's Explode a Theory

You've often heard the remark that "years ago we didn't hear all this tommyrot about germs and sanitation but people lived to be older than they do nowadays."

It's a foolish remark because the actual truth is that the average length of life is at least ten years more than it was a hundred years ago.

Two reasons for it. First our physicians know so much more about diagnosis, treatment and prevention of disease; Second, the people know better how to take care of themselves and have better means at their disposal.

Th right kind of drug stores mean a lot to people who try to keep themselves well and who want their physician's prescriptions properly prepared when they're sick.

Society News

FOR the past three years, joint meetings have been held by the members of the Dolphian, Woman's, Arbutus and Lotus clubs of the city and the program for each year has surpassed the former one in arousing interest among the women. The present year, the executive committee of each club, consisting of the president, secretary and chairman of the program committee of each club, brought to Lima six lecturers, each one speaking on the different phases of "The Development of Woman." The final meeting was held April 16th at the home of Mrs. M. C. Thompson when Dr. Vernon Riegel spoke.

These ever-aggressive women have chosen for their subject for the coming year of 1923-24, "Progress in America." They believe as Prince Albert, when he said, "I conceive it to be the duty of every educated person, closely to watch and study the time in which he lives, and, as far as in him lies, to add his humble mite of individual exertion to further the accomplishment of what he believes Providence to have ordained." Miss Emily Kneubuhl of Minneapolis will speak to the women on October 15th, on the "American and Foreign Relations." Miss Kneubuhl is a political woman and very well informed on governmental subjects. Mrs. Robert C. Morris of Toledo is known among the club women of the city and will speak to them on November 12th, on "The Transformation of our Educational System"; also, Mrs. Morris, who is chairman of the Department of Literature of the Ohio Federation, usually speaks on subjects which take more of a literary aspect, she will speak of the old style of education and its changes to the new methods. Miss Margaret Dorman, who will be here January 21st, comes highly recommended from Indianapolis and will speak on "The Development of American Literature." Mrs. Francis G. Richards spoke this year on "Women of the Victorian Age" and will speak February 26th, next year, on "Progress of the Drama in America." On March 17th, Mrs. Mary Leche Hurst of Toledo will come, having as her subject "Progress of Art in America" and the final meeting will be on April 14th and will be an afternoon of music and reading, at which time a Lima woman will give readings of her own selection.

Presidents of the four clubs for the coming year are: Mrs. T. H. Schenover who is the new president of the Dolphian club, succeeding Mrs. E. H. Curbin, Jr.; Mrs. Elizabeth Mitchell, who succeeds Mrs. Kent Hughes as president of the Woman's club, Mrs. Henry Buck, the new president of the Arbutus club, succeeding Mrs. Gibson Dilline and Mrs. M. S. Thompson, president of the Lotus club, succeeding Mrs. L. A. Larson.

Before a representative audience of fellow-musicians and friends, numbering several hundred people, Miss Margaret Meahaffey appeared in an organ recital at the Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, Tuesday evening. The talented Miss Meahaffey played difficult numbers and played them well. She has recently completed a post-graduate course in organ work at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, a student of Louis Curtis.

Miss Meahaffey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Meahaffey, N. Charles-st. and prior to her entering the conservatory in Cincinnati, attended Ward-Belmont, Nashville, Tenn.

At the meeting of the Research club, Tuesday, with Mrs. F. H. Creps, S. Pierce-st., Mrs. C. H. Zangg, a missionary from Japan, spoke to the women, telling of the experience in her work in Japan. Mrs. Beecher Moke gave a splendid paper on "History of the Quakers" followed by an interesting discussion on "Sunday Blue Laws," from a religious and civic viewpoint. Leading the discussion were Mrs. D. R. Cantigny, Mrs. L. C. Binkley, Mrs. Earl Robn and Mrs. W. J. Fitzgerald. Devotionals were led by Mrs. J. C. Kelly and Mrs. J. D. Conrath. Tea was served following the program.

Mrs. J. C. Kelly, E. Franklin-st., will entertain the club in two weeks.

Mrs. Edward Timmermeister, S. Rosedale-av., entertained the members of the Wednesday Luncheon Bridge club, Wednesday, at her home. Four tables were filled for play; substitutes for the afternoon being Mrs. M. S. Thompson, Mrs. George Carter, Mrs. Thomas Drake and Mrs. Roy Gregg.

Cleveland Loses

Indians Lose First Game Since Season Opens

With six straight victories to their credit, the first six games of the 1923 season, the Cleveland Indians lost yesterday's game to the Detroit Tigers after a hard up-hill fight. The game was full of thrills from the beginning, as has been each game so far played. Errors were costly. Young Joe Shaute was the hero of the hour—the statuesque southpaw from the shores of the Lakawanna had them all at his mercy with the exception of Fothergill, left field for the Tigers who scored Haney with a single in the seventh and scored Haney again in the ninth, for the tying run. Fothergill scored the winning run in the ninth when Hallmann crashed the ball just inside the third base line and it bounded to the fence for a triple.

While we have these things in mind it's time we are thinking of the hot days coming—Athletic underwear, B. V. D.'s and summer weight in an abundance, at special prices—all sizes.

Mrs. H. W. Meier, W. Elm-st., welcomed the members of the Domestic Science club to her home, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Charles Black gave an intensely interesting paper on "Is it beneficial or detrimental for a mother be associated with club work of the city or to seek recreation outside of the home?" Mrs. Geo. Hall spoke on "The History of the wife of Senator Logan" and Mrs. Black gave several musical selections. During the business session, plans were discussed for a reception to be given at the home of Mrs. Ira Wagner, W. Spring-st., by the members of the club, during the month of May. Mrs. Meier was assisted by serving a two-course luncheon by Mrs. Margaret Worth and Miss Jean Worth, house-guests at the Meier home.

Mrs. George R. Meil, S. Broadway, will entertain the club in two weeks.

Members of the Ampola club will meet at the home of Mrs. W. C. Baker, S. Jackson-st., Thursday evening.

The meeting of the Excelsior club, scheduled for Thursday, has been postponed for two weeks.

Mrs. John Tohle, 410 E. Eureka-st., will entertain the members of the Laurel club, Thursday afternoon. Assistant hostess will be Mrs. Ralph Jacobs.

Mrs. C. M. Garrigus will welcome the members of the Pons club at a one o'clock luncheon at the Barr hotel, Thursday. As implied by the name of the club, bridge will follow the luncheon.

At her home, 1129 W. Market-st., Mrs. T. C. Breton will entertain the members of the Triumph Buchre club, Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. William L. Algire and Mrs. Guy Copus entertained the members of their bridge club at the Barr hotel, Wednesday. Luncheon at one o'clock preceded the afternoon's play.

Guests, other than the club members, were: Mrs. P. A. Kable, Mrs. Ray Simpkins, Mrs. Walter Hens and Miss Lemaud.

Members of the Win One Class of the First Baptist church met at the home of Mrs. Frank Crist, S. Metcalf-st., Tuesday evening. A program of musical readings and contests was enjoyed, after which a two-course luncheon was served by Mrs. Crist, assisted by the assistant hostesses, Mr. C. E. Lynch, Mrs. G. S. Shockey, Mrs. G. T. Nice and Mrs. Harry Walther.

Mrs. T. A. Jones of Macletown is the guest, until Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Sawyer, Lakewood-av.

Three tables were filled for play at the meeting of the Wednesday Bridge club with Mrs. J. J. Maghin, as hostess, Wednesday. Mrs. Maghin entertained at a one o'clock luncheon at the Elks home.

Guests other than the club members were: Mrs. H. O. Bentley, Mrs. H. C. Thew, Mrs. R. W. Armstrong and Mrs. C. J. Scholler of Van Wert.

Miss Margaret Meahaffey and her father, George E. Meahaffey, N. Charles-st., left Wednesday for Ashville, N. C. Miss Meahaffey and her father expect to be gone about ten days, visiting at Nashville, Tenn. and other cities.

Mrs. O. J. Leininger, 238 S. Pierce-st., will entertain the members of the Bethany Sisters Sunday school class of Bethany Lutheran church, Friday evening. All members of the class are asked to be present.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:

A YOUNG man went with me regularly for several months, then quit coming for a while. Now he comes to see me or takes me out once in two or three weeks. I know that he goes to see another girl far oftener than he comes to see me, but still he tells me that he cares more for me than for any other girl. Do you think it is worth my while to wait for him? I care a great deal for him and could be happier with him than with anyone else; but if he really doesn't care for me I'd rather give him up once and for all. What shall I do? I am 23 and he is a year older.

L. R.

TO AN outsider, your letter indicates that the young man is other girl than in you. Else why would he devote most of his time to her? His statement that he cares more for you than for any other girl sounds suspiciously like the "line" he uses in talking to any girl to whom he offers attentions.

However, since you care for him so deeply, I hesitate to advise you to break off the friendship entirely, as you suggest.

Dear Miss Smart:

I believe that a man who is worthy of acquaintance is one that can hold his position and not be picked from the street. Is my view correct or not modern?

When young man accompanying a girl home steps for a few minutes before the house or inside, whose place is it to suggest a departure?

When a girl friend has spoken unkindly of you to men friends, do you think it wrong to warn others of her dealings?

It being imprudent to allow a young man to kiss you when departing, what would you think of one who refuses to speak because of a denial at a party?

"23."

I think your views are quite right and in nine cases out of ten considered modern.

It is up to the man to suggest his going unless, under unusual circumstances, the girl wishes him to leave.

early; then she should request him politely to do so.

No; do not meddle in other people's affairs to such an extent. Take care of your own and in your case, try to make your friend see where she is in the wrong so that she, too, will attend to her own affairs.

My opinion would be that he is very narrow-minded and not worth-while.

Dear Miss Smart:

What are the meanings of the following names: Mary, Agnes, Helen, Catherine, Vincent, Arthur, Raymond, Alfred and Eathen?

A CANDY KID

Mary means bitter. Agnes means pure; Helen means light; Catherine means pure; Vincent means conquering; Arthur means high or noble; Raymond means wise protection; Alfred means good counselor and I am unable to find the meaning of Eathen.

Your writing is very good but watch your spelling more closely.

WHISPERING SAGE

By Harry Sinclair Drago and Joseph Noel—Copyright, 1928.

EVEN HERE TODAY

"Acklin, boss of the Double A ranch, and Bodine, new owner of the old Webster Valley of the water supply. Acklin secretly builds a dam and takes the water supply from Bodine. Jose, leader of the Basques, is shot and killed from ambush. Mercedes, daughter of Jose, accuses Acklin of the murder. Kildare, one of Acklin's men, in love with Mercedes, is hunting the murderer of his brother.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"You heard, Bodine," he muttered ominously. "It goes for you. When crooks fall out, it's a long drop. You'd better drop out of sight."

Buck tried to interrupt, but the boy waved him down with a word: "Git!"

A movement in the crowd made it eloquent.

Night was at hand. The whispering sages were chanting their most notorious dirges as they winged across the whispering sage. Deafened, broken, tired with their struggling, the weary Basques were alone at last in the gray twilight with the fate that confronted them. They had come to the battle strong, and determined, but now, as they turned to begin the long trip back to their homes, they moved with bowed heads. They were beaten.

CHAPTER XXIV

The Red Trail

In the days that followed, Kildare watched Bodine's movements with untiring patience. Acklin had sent Melody and him into the hills again. For hours at a time they would hold a glass on the house on Webster Creek. Little there became as familiar as if they were on the spot. They counted eight men: Buck and seven others. Their features were not recognizable, but the big fellow's size marked him. No one worked. In the heat of midday the Double A riders rarely caught sight of any of them.

Melody met his men one morning. He had no news. He had heard that one or two of the Basques had packed up their belongings and moved on. Cash made light of it. The flight was over!

He was right, apparently. Blaze had supposed Bodine would kick back once or twice before giving up; but four days had gone by, and he had not stirred from his retreat.

The following morning, however, there were signs of life at the Webster ranch. Shortly after daylight Buck and his men were in the saddle, and by noon they had rounded up their stock, now about three hundred. An hour later they were in motion, pointed for Winchester. "They're heading for the railroad, sure as you're born," Melody called to Blaze.

"We can see them from here for an hour or more. When they reach the river, I'm going to like down there."

Melody studied his friend's face before he spoke again. "Every once in a while you pull a mysterious crack like that," he finally said. "What you got up your sleeve?"

"It goes back a long ways, old-timer. Some day maybe you'll find out." Kildare got to his feet. "But I ain't got any intention of juggling you into trouble. This is my own little affair. I'll wait here, and you can drift back to the Bull's Head."

"You make me sick," the red-haired one answered savagely. "I don't want to cheat you out of anything," Blaze murmured in his drawing manner. "Come on along, if you feel that way about it."

Their proposed plan received a jolt as they saw Bodine and his men separate at the river. Three of them headed back for the Webster. The distance was so great that Blaze could not tell whether Buck was among those who had gone on or not.

"One of us has got to stay here now, Melody. You wait, I'll go." By hard riding over a roundabout course, Kildare trailed the moving herd into town. Bodine and the bandaged man were not among those present. The steers were loaded the next morning, and the six riders who had brought them in immediately returned to the Webster.

Evening found Blaze and Melody in their old nest above Bodine's ranch.

"Looks like a get-away to me," Kildare told the poet. "I'd stake my reputation two-thirds of that herd were Double A steers. We ought to see something doing in the morning."

The return of Buck's men from Winchester brought things to a head on Kildare had prophesied.

"You two," Buck said, addressing Shorty and Gloomy, "are so strong for excitement; suppose you head for town tonight and circle back after it gets dark. Strike into the hills west of here; Morrow may have his eye on us. Bump off a few of Acklin's cattle. Work fast tomorrow night. That'll throw them on your trail. I'll look like the Basques had a finger in it. Get to the north before morning. You'll find a lot of places to hole-up in for a day or two. Once you pass Hog John's, lay out as long as it seems safe; three days if you can make it. Beat it here then, quick as God'll let you, and pump all the lead you want to as you come."

Blaze and Melody saw them leave. But not till night, and in the darkness they swung back and up by the way of Kings River. In twenty-four hours word of the red trail they had left reached the Bull's Head. Cash and his riders combed the wide valleys and narrow canyons. But Bodine's men were safe in the very heart of Acklin's empire.

A guard was placed against a repetition of the slaughter. Guerrilla warfare was something Cash understood. A talk with Kildare revealed that the foreman blamed the raid on the Basques.

After two nights of quiet, Acklin relaxed. He put the incident down for a sporadic attack, a sort of dying blow. But the next night Gloomy and Shorty dashed down from their hiding-place, leaving a gory track to mark the way by which they had come. Below the peak they turned west, and threaded their way into the valley of the Kings. There they slept and ate. Twelve hours later they were safe on Webster Creek.

Bodine could not repress his elation as he waited for them. He and Nez Perce had defied Esteban's order and ridden to Paradise. They had heard a great deal. By ten o'clock they were back on the ranch. Bodine could not sleep. He paced up and down the path in front of the house for more than an hour before his two men arrived. He greeted them vociferously.

"Boys, we got 'em. The Basques found a notice nailed on the door of the wood-house in Paradise about eight o'clock this evening. Some of Acklin's men put it there. It says if any more Double A steers are found shot there'll be reprisals; they'll hit back. You must 'a' got a bunch of them. The Basques are asking each other who killed this bunch of Double A critters. Every man-jack of them suspects his neighbor and is tickled silly. Anything to get Acklin. You boys turn in. The rest of us will tend to this job for tonight."

"What's on now? Gloomy inquired. "He won't have any cattle left if we keep this up."

"That's ended," Buck began to smile again. "That warehouse is owned on shares by the Basques. Every one of them is interested in it. Thirty or so have this year's clipping there right now. We're going to touch it off. That'll hit every one of them in the well-known pocket-book."

Nez Perce laughed. "He's hopping round on one leg now, those Basques. When we get done, he won't have no place to put even his beam."

An hour from the time the half-breed had emptied a bottle of kerosene over some refuse and lighted it, the big wooden building was in ruins.

A spur of the Santa Rosas separated Paradise Valley from the country that sloped to Quinn River. Old man Liotard, an octogenarian, grazed his sheep in its draws and on the flat mesa that skirted the rim of the valley opposite the Timbered Buttes.

Liotard occupied a shack that stood where the mesa came to a neck in front of the granite outcroppings that rose to high peaks.

The mesa and the tiny valleys beyond were only accessible by means of this narrow bit of land. The old man could look across the chain that separated his acre from the buttes, but the getting there was quite a different matter. It was a sheer fall of eight hundred feet from the eastern rim of the mesa to Bodine's ranch below. Above the shack there were large pockets in the rocks in which the snow water stored itself. It was a sheep-man's paradise.

Bodine knew that men like Liotard were looked up to as the heads of their clans. They were uncle, cousin, or grandfather to countless numbers of the Basques in the valley. Marriage tripled and quadrupled the number. A blow at Liotard would hurt a hundred kinsmen. Urging their horses cautiously up the tortuous trail that led to the shack, Shorty and he arrived when in sight of the place before dawn. There they waited.

Minutes rolled by before the old man came out, a moth-eaten dog at his side. Out of a lean-to built against his shack he led a burro that seemed as old as its master.

About seven o'clock Kildare, from a porch across the canon where he watched the house on Webster Creek, caught sight of the milling sheep as Liotard drove them from the water-pockets in the rocks.

When the animals settled to grazing, they began moving directly toward the cabin. Noon-time always found them headed back to the high ground. There were close to a thousand head in the herd; the big merinos. Blaze laughed as he watched through his glasses the play of the big rams; but his smile deserted him as he saw two horsemen dash around the cabin to the center of the herd. The sheep were in a panic almost instantly.

Shooting and hallooing, the riders urged the sheep on, until they sped before the prancing horses. Another minute, and they were hurtling through space to the jagged rocks hundreds of feet below. Thirty, forty—Blaze turned away sick. An Indian could not have conceived anything more savage.

So far Kildare caught only the backs of the two men; but as they began to cross the mesa, he knew they must come down by the trail that led to the cabin. Blaze moved to where his rifle commanded the road.

LETTER FROM MRS. MARY ALDEN PRESCOTT TO HER SON, JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT

MY DEAR BOY: I cannot understand from your letter just how Leslie came to burn himself. You say something about a paper being lighted from a cigarette. I do hope that Leslie is not smoking too much. Of course I think that smoking at all is too much, but dear Priscilla Bradford told me that Leslie had that modern habit, so naturally I can only think that the accident of which you speak as an excuse for your wife not writing me has come in some way from that deplorable habit.

I wish, my son, you had told me that you were going to marry in such haste. Had I known this I would have tried during the last year to have saved enough money out of my meager income to have painted the house this spring. As it is, I presume the old homestead will have to go neglected and forlorn. It would not have been so bad your father lived.

Convey my kindest regards and commiserate Leslie upon her accident and believe me always, YOUR LOVING MOTHER.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO HER FRIEND, BEATRICE GRIMSHAW.

I am sending you, dear Bee, the enclosed letter from Jack's mother to him. I have copied it verbatim. Evidently the dear old lady does not like to see a woman smoke, and will you believe it, now that Jack and I are married, it seems to me that even he has changed his opinion somewhat on the subject. He used to say that a pretty girl smoking a cigarette gracefully was to him the most beautiful thing in the world, but the other night after reading his mother's letter, which he found lying unopened beside his ash tray, he said, "Are you sure that your beautiful teeth will not be discolored if you smoke much?"

I answered, "How long have you been smoking, Jack?"

"About ten years."

"How many cigarettes do you smoke a day?"

"About twenty or thirty."

"Well, my dear," I said truthfully, "I think your beautiful teeth were the things that first attracted me."

"And do they still attract you, Leslie darling?" said Jack, coming over close to me and smiling as he bent to kiss me.

I find that when my husband's lips touch mine I feel as tho' all the world is on the outside and for us there is only the present with its living joy to think about. The art of loving then seems to me the only art worth learning.

There, I am getting too sentimental. But then, dear Bee, altho I am just married you know I have already learned something very important. Very necessary to a successful wife. She must hug to her heart all the sentiment that comes into it and dismiss from her mind all the disagreeable thoughts that might find lodgment there.

Lovingly, LESLIE.

TOMORROW: Sally Atherton writes her friend, Beatrice Grimshaw, her husband's old trouble crops up again.

TIP IS GIVEN TO BUSINESS MEN

Success Depends on Reading Newspapers, Forbes Says

MISSING LINK DANGEROUS

Importance of Keeping Posted is Pointed Out

(By B. C. FORBES)

NEW YORK — (Special) — Any business man who does not read the newspapers is in danger of falling down on his job.

It is impossible to keep properly and promptly posted on what is going on in the world without reading the daily paper.

The general manager of a large manufacturing company located in rather a small town, once complained to me that he felt more or less out of touch with the heartbeats of the business world, as he was so far from any great financial center. He complained, too, that the two local newspapers paid too scant attention to business news. He asked me what he could do about it.

I advised him, first of all, to get into touch with the local newspaper owners and, if possible, have a talk with them on the subject, as it was just possible that he might be able to persuade one or other of them that it would pay to devote more space to the kind of business news and views which would interest him and many other citizens whose activities made it advisable for them to keep in day-to-day touch with the events and trends of the world of affairs.

In addition to reading very closely his local newspapers, I unhesitatingly recommended that he become a regular subscriber and reader of at least one of the great city papers.

He replied that he was anxious to get, not merely business news, but an intelligent interpretation of what the news signified, and that he wanted to read expert comments on financial and economic and labor trends and tendencies.

I assured him that the latest newspapers in America now spend money very generously both for gathering business and financial news and for the writings of commentators enjoying the highest reputations.

He did as I suggested and, as a matter of fact, I understand that one of the local newspapers increased its service of business news and features.

However he immediately began reading and reading regularly a metropolitan newspaper featuring business and finance.

There may not, of course, have been any connection between this and what followed; but the fact is that the enterprise of which this man is general manager has since done better than it ever did before.

Some business men, especially those of the old school, think it is enough if they read the leading weekly or monthly devoted to their lines of business.

Others are wise enough to supplement this by reading some periodical embracing the whole of the general business and financial field.

This, however, is not enough. No man holding any kind of responsible job can afford to neglect reading the newspapers even for one day. Something may have been chronicled which it was extremely important for him to know and ignorance of which might lead him into making himself ridiculous later.

I would go even further. I would make this statement:

No man is thoroughly educated who does not regularly and systematically read the daily newspapers, nor is he fitting himself to the maximum for filling any important business position.

To fill your job as efficiently as you know how, do not be afraid to use quite a few hours of your own time every week to reading well selected newspapers.

ALLEGED MURDER NOTE IS TERMED ONLY JOKE

James Anderson, 33, colored, who gave his home as Council Bluffs, Iowa, admitted Wednesday in criminal court that he wrote a note found on his person which read:

"Keep my insurance and give it to sister. But, like, I shot a man and had to change my name or my insurance to James Anderson."

Anderson told Judge Jackson the note was just a joke and was written at a dance in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, by a friend.

He had denied to police that he wrote the note when questioned before being brought up in court charged with vagrancy.

Judge Jackson sentenced him to 15 days in the city jail, to give police time to check up on his statements.

STOCK MARKET IS SLUGGISH

Execution of Selling Orders Brings Mixed Movement

Table with 4 columns: STOCKS, OPENING, HIGH, LOW. Rows include Anglo-American Oil, Am. Locomotive, etc.

NEW YORK — Publication of the exceptionally favorable quarterly earnings report of the United States Steel Corporation imparted general strength at the opening of today's stock market.

Steel opened a point higher at 90 1/2, while St. Paul, St. P. & N. E. and the other two stocks were substantially higher also on the measures to curtail production by the leading California producers.

Altho there were a few stocks that lost ground in the early dealings on profit-taking arising from yesterday's large advances especially in the case of the remainder of the list pursued a steady upward course.

Buying was most effective in the sugars, rubbers, domestic oils, leathers, equipments and steel. Railroads also responded to an increased demand, particularly Louisville and Nashville and Chicago and Northwestern. Gains ranging from 1 to 2 1/2 points were secured by the leading stocks.

The confident buying which characterized the early trading was arrested when selling orders were executed in a number of industrials and specialties. Recognized leaders, however, did not yield much when profit-taking began and the market turned sluggish. Concentrated buying was effective in carrying a selected list to materially higher prices, gains of from 1 to 3 points being recorded by California Pacific, New York Airbrake, Fisher Body, Remington Typewriter, Dupont, American Water Works, 6 cent preferred and Orphenum preferred.

On the other hand, Baldwin Standard Oil of California, Colorado Fuel, General Electric, Marine preferred, Fleischmann's, Simmons Company and Gimbel Brothers declined one to two points. Call money opened at 4 1/2 per cent.

SUGAR MARKET

NEW YORK — Raw sugar firm at 6 1/2 for Cuba cost and freight, equal to 5.98 for centrifugal. Raw sugar futures 7 1/2 to 12 points net higher. July sold at 6.80 and September at 6.92, or now high record price for the movement.

Refined 20 to 40 points higher with fine granulated now quoted at 10.00 to 10.25.

WHEAT PRICES ON UPWARD MOVE

Brings About Boost

CHICAGO. — With indications of considerable export business being done, wheat averaged a little higher in price today during the early dealings, May delivery in particular.

The fact that the Liverpool market showed less firmness than the majority of traders here had looked for tended somewhat to restrain buying. The upward specialty in the case in regard to the new crop months, July and September. Opening prices which ranged from 1-3 decline to 3-8 advances with May 1-2 1/2 to 1-3 3/4 and July 1-2 1/2 to 1-3 1/2 were followed by some slight declines and then by an all around rise above yesterday's finish.

Eastern buying gave some independent strength to corn. After opening 3-8 off to a shade advance, May 8-1 1/2 to 8-1 1/4, the corn market scored gains for all deliveries.

Oats were governed by the action of corn. Prices started unchanged to 1-3 and 1-4 lower; May 54 1-4 and later showed slight general gains.

Provisions were weak in line with hog values.
